

Wakefield Municipal Gas & Light Department
Optional Seasonal Residential Heat Pump Rate (HP-Res)

Purpose and Applicability

The Seasonal Residential Heat Pump Rate (HP-RES) is designed to provide residential customers, with full or partial heat pump systems, access to a discounted electric rate for all electricity usage during the designated heating season (November 1st – April 30th).

Two classifications are available under the HP-RES: All-Electric (HP-RES A) and Partial Heat Pump (HP-RES B). Qualifying residential customers shall be served under either HP-RES A or HP-RES B, as determined at the discretion of the Department, based on the residence's heating source(s) and the presence or absence of fossil fuel. The specific parameters applicable to each rate are set forth below.

Rates

HP-RES A (All-Electric Residence):

Residential customers who have heat pumps as their heating source and have no fossil fuel, will be eligible for HP-RES A. Customers must verify that fossil fuel is not at the residence and heat pumps are the only heating source.

Under this rate, residential customers will be billed under the same structure as Domestic Electric Rate A (MDPU No. 73), with a seasonal discount applied to the distribution charge. Below is a breakdown of the seasonal discount for HP-RES A:

HP-RES A Discount

Non-heating Season (May 1st – October 31st):

|                     |                            |
|---------------------|----------------------------|
| Distribution Charge | $0.0442 per kilowatt-hour |
|---------------------|----------------------------|

Heating Season (November 1st – April 30th):

|                     |                            |
|---------------------|----------------------------|
| Distribution Charge | $0.0142 per kilowatt-hour |
|---------------------|----------------------------|

HP-RES B (Partial Heat Pump Residence):

Residential customers who have either (1) heat pumps as a partial heating source or (2) heat pumps as the primary heating source while also keeping fossil fuel at the residence (for heating, cooking, and/or water heating), will be eligible for HP-RES B. Customers must verify that they have a heat pump at the residence.

Under this rate, residential customers will be billed under the same structure as Domestic Electric Rate A (MDPU No. 73), with a seasonal discount applied to the distribution charge. Additionally, if the residential customer is also a gas heat customer through the Department, (if applicable) the customer will be switched over from Domestic Gas Heat Rate B (MDPU No. 48) to Domestic Gas Rate A (MDPU No. 47). Below is a breakdown of the seasonal discount for HP-RES B:

HP-RES B Discount

Non-heating Season (May 1st – October 31st):

|                     |                            |
|---------------------|----------------------------|
| Distribution Charge | $0.0442 per kilowatt-hour |
|---------------------|----------------------------|

Heating Season (November 1st – April 30th):

|                     |                            |
|---------------------|----------------------------|
| Distribution Charge | $0.0292 per kilowatt-hour |
|---------------------|----------------------------|
